Davis Re-elected Ball Club Manager

Gene Again Chosen to Guide
Destinies of Main Line League Champs.

DURBIN NEW PRESIDENT

The first meeting of the 1931 season of the Narberth Baseball Club was held last Friday evening at the office of the Narberth Coal Co. Plans for financing the club were discussed and officers elected for the season.

Manager Gene Davis, under whose able direction the team has twice won the Main Line League title, was re-elected and, in addition to his field duties, he will also fill the post of business manager and take active charge of booking the twilight games of the club. William H. Durbin, popular real estate man and well known in baseball circles as player, fan and club official, will assume the duties of president for the forthcoming year. Joseph Berta was elected vice president while Charles Harnden, the efficient secretary-treasurer, was re-elected to that office. William Newberg also was re-elected to his position as property manager, and Robert Compton, Charles Ebert, Ernest Boulay, and Lewis Nicholson will assist Mr. Harnden in his financial duties.

An advisory board of prominent business and professional men who are also ardent baseball fans was appointed by President Durbin. The names of the advisory board follow: Howard E. Davis, Dr. A. C. Barnes, E. P. Dold, E. C. Griswold, J. J. Cabrey, R. A. Cabrey, R. S. Dunne, George M. Dando, Edward A. Muschamp, George Schroder, Fletcher W. Stites, Wilmer G. Crowell, William H. Fretz, W. P. Boro Man Joins 'Pa.' Honor Roll After 50 Yrs.' Service

Fifty years ago, on January 1, 1881, Edward E. Bossert, passenger conductor on the New York Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who was retired from active duty on January 1, 1931, to become a member of the "Pennsy" Roll of Honor, came to work for them as a freight brakeman. He was made a passenger brakeman on October 25, 1881, and was promoted to be a passenger conductor on June 25, 1884, a position he held continuously for forty-six and one-half years, many of which he was assigned to duty on trains operating between Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, and New York.

"Ed" Bossert, as everyone knew him, attained the obligatory retiring age of three score years and ten on December 28, having been born in Philadelphia in the year 1860. Conductor Bossert resides at 409 Grove Place, Narberth.

New Provisions in Zoning Ord. Explained

Councilman Bates Outlines New Portions, Revisions of Ordinance.

HEARING NEXT FRIDAY

The new Borough Zoning Ordinance, upon which a public hearing will be held next Friday evening, May 1, contains some revisions and some new portions.

It was felt more desirable to replace the present Ordinance with a new one, providing for the new business district on Montgomery Avenue with the limitations imposed on it, together with a few additional clauses covering points which Council has felt were lacking in the old Ordinance. This will eliminate the unwieldy situation of having two zoning Ordinances, with neither complete in itself.

Clifford W. Bates, chairman of the Ordinance and Law Committee of Council, has prepared the following summary of the Ordinance, giving just the new matter in the Ordinance, which is printed in bold face type, and

Mrs. Hongler Elected New Club President

Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Frye Chosen Vice Presidents at Tuesday's Meeting.

SCHREPFER WAS SPEAKER

On Tuesday afternoon the Women's Community Club of Narberth elected the following officers for the coming seasons of 1931-1933:

President, Mrs. J. A. Hongler; First Vice President, Mrs. W. C. Newman; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. H. Miller, all for two-year terms.

Mrs. H. A. Frye was elected second vice president for a one-year term, and the following directors were elected for two-year terms: Mrs. W. Russell Green, Mrs. Neal C. Anderson, Mrs. W. J. Loughlin. Mrs. H. F. Stevens was also elected a director for a one-year term.

The speaker of the afternoon was Frank A. Schrepfer, assistant professor of landscape architecture of the University of Pennsylvania. His topic was "The Background of Gardens," in which he described the earliest beginnings of gardens in the Oriental and ancient countries of the world.

According to Mr. Schrepfer, civilization has not flowered in its full sense until it has found its gardens or built its gardens. History tells us that the ancient countries of the world, after discovering the use for plants, recognized in their beauty the establishment of everlasting monuments in the world. Women have had a great part in the building of beautiful gardens, for one of the Egyptian queens sent from afar to gather seeds, plants and flowers for her gardens. Rome found value in gardening and built many wonderful gardens. According to Mr. Schrepfer, too, religion and gardens are correlated in history. Genesis chose for his masterpiece, the Creation of Man, the Garden of Eden. Christ in His greatest stress was in the Garden of Gethsemane. In the songs of Solomon one finds many references to the rose and the lily. The mural history of Egypt tells the story of the garden.

First Practice Saturday

Although a number of the players took advantage of the splendid weather and indulged in a brief workout last Saturday, the first official practice of the Narberth Baseball Club will be held this Saturday afternoon at the playground, according to the announcement of Manager Gene Davis. Manager Davis expects to have many of last year's championship club on hand, but he also extends a cordial invitation to any players in the vicinity who wish to try out for the team to attend the practice.

Aid Federation of Churches

The children have again responded to a call for clothing for the Main Line Federation of Churches. A goodly supply has been collected. In addition a voluntary fund amounting to $26 has been contributed by the teachers for the work of the same organization.

The School Board and the school authorities have been requested by the Narberth Board of Health to notify Health Officer George B. Suplee of any pupil absences of one or two days. This, Dr. George A. Sloan, president of the board, feels is a necessary precaution, since many cases of scarlet fever are very light, with recovery taking place in two or three days, but contagion contacts still possible. It is hoped that parents will co-operate in this health measure.

In behalf of the Mulieres, Mrs. Mueller wishes to thank all those who contributed the decorations and flowers and also the merchants who contributed the supplies for the dinner.

Narberth Theater Notes

Considered by many as one of the funniest pairs on the screen today, Marie Dressler and Polly Moran are at the Narberth Theatre this Friday and Saturday in "Reducing."

"One Heavenly Night," a romantic comedy, is coming to Narberth next Monday and Tuesday. Its cast includes Evelyn Laye, John Boles and Leon Errol. In addition there will be another golf subject featuring Johnny Farrell.

Very funny is "Follow the Leader," in which Ed Wynn, Lou Holtz, Ginger Rogers and Stanley Smith are coming to the borough playhouse next Wednesday and Thursday.

Friday and Saturday of next week will see "Fighting Caravans" coming to Narberth. Based on Zane Grey's exciting tale, it has a good cast that includes Lily Damita and Gary Cooper.

500 License Numbers Turned in by Police

Serious Accident Wednesday Adds Fuel to Enforcement Campaign

HEARINGS START MON.

Approximately 500 automobile license numbers have been taken by Lower Merion Police this week in the campaign to enforce observance of "Stop" signs at intersections of "Thru Traffic" streets.

Summonses will be mailed to all offenders and hearings will commence next Monday, according to Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer, of Cynwyd.

The accident on Wednesday afternoon was cited by Superintendent of Police Smith as grounds for the absolute enforcement of the Ordinance.

It occurred about 2 o'clock at the intersection of Meetinghouse Lane and Montgomery Avenue, Narberth, and resulted in serious injury to four people and cuts and bruises to two others.

A car dashed out of Meetinghouse Lane onto the pike, causing Mrs. Katherine Brennen, of Phoenixville, who was driving west on the pike, to swerve to the left and hit a machine driven by L. S. Hoffman, of Coatesville, head on. Mrs. Brennen suffered lacerations of the face and possible loss of an eye, while her daughter, Mrs. Matilda Fox, 26, suffered a possible fracture of the skull. Two grandchildren were also injured. Ernest, aged 5, suffered a possible fracture of the skull, and Robert, aged 1, was cut about the face and hands.

Miss Emma Stauffer, riding with Hoffman, was cut and bruised. The Brennen car was almost completely demolished, while Hoffman's machine, a new Cadillac, suffered considerable damage.

All of the injured were taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital for treatment.

A summons has been issued for the driver of the car causing the accident. His name is withheld by the police.

Barnhouse Meeting Is a Great Success

The combined efforts of the Young People's Bible Class and the Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Narberth Presbyterian Church in advertising last Sunday evening's address by Donald Grey Barnhouse resulted in capacity audiences for both the Christian Endeavor and regular Church services, 447 crowding the church at the latter meeting.

In the Christian Endeavor Society, Dr. Barnhouse gave the young people thoughtful answers to a great number of questions in matters of Bible study and the Christian life.

In the evening service he gave a most helpful address on "The Most Sought-After Thing in This World," showing that neither money, pleasure, fame nor other worldly ambitions brought real happiness, but that a trust in Jesus Christ as Saviour and a submittal of one's life to Him as Lord, brought lasting joy and peace and a life of service that was really worth while for time and for eternity.

Oberammergau to Be Travelogue Subject

Rev. Arthur James to Present Unique, Illustrated Talk Before Men's Club.

Narberth men will have an opportunity to hear the Rev. Arthur James, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's M. E. Church, Philadelphia, in his illustrated "Travelogue to Oberammergau," in Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church on next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

This is not an ordinary recital of travel, for anyone having heard Dr. James understands that these pictures will be illuminated with observations and witticisms, eloquence and vigor characteristic only of Dr. James. This European trip will be of interest not only to those who have not had the chance to look over Old World cities, but of especial interest to those who have visited the cities and countryside of Europe.

Another speaker of the evening will be the Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, who will present Dr. James. There will be a double male quartet to lead the singing and offer special numbers.

The Men's Club is offering this as the last program of general interest for the club year, and extends to every man in the community a cordial invitation to join them in an evening of good fellowship, sociability and refreshments.

Jeddo-Highland Anthracite

Unchanging

1858 was the year in which the first ton of Jeddo-Highland coal was mined. At that time this coal was justly considered the highest quality anthracite on account of its high heat-giving value, low ash content and careful preparation.

TODAY seventy-three years later, Jeddo-Highland Coal is being mined from the same seams in the same compact property—the original high quality is unchanged—and the most exacting standard of preparation is strictly adhered to.

Juniors Help Swell Narberth's Baseball Fame

Since Elm became Narberth, and long before that, if you ask Howard Davis, this choice part of the great footstool has been acclaimed for its superb baseball, and so when our boys go to bat a lustrous tradition accompanies their swings at the apple, creating no wonder at all that the biggest single item of expense is for the balls that are never found, sunk deep down in the perturbed earth, as probably they are, victims of vicious clouts, far removed from the madding haunts of mortal men.

Through the years the prestige grows, ever reaching new heights, and always aided and abetted by the fine and recurring crops of clever and capable youth, making themselves ready to catch the banner as it is thrown down to them, theirs to hold it high, to advance diamond distinction, which is a pre-eminent prize of our bristling bailiwick.

This year of grace (and grief) we behold a particularly fine aggregation, our Narberth Juniors, every last one of them a borough boy and most of them with a tidy record on the Lower Merion H. S. team. Twice a week they play, when the big team is away, and those who fail to look in on them will be missing a very great deal, and that's a fact.

Hearken, too, to the news, additional evidence of the solid footing of it all, that Sheriff-designate Fred Walzer is their mentor-manager, turning down the cops he esteems so highly, as do we all (sometimes), so that he could train, as only he can, our precious young idea how to shoot.

Over them also as a paternal shelter, is a galaxy of the town's great, with John Drizen, our shoe tycoon as president, and Banker McCrery as vice president. The secretary is George Burgess, the robust brother of his- trionically talented sisters, whilst no less than Jerry Casey occupies the important treasurer's throne. The business manager is well chosen in the person of Thomas Casey, brimful of the acumen and skill which the right fellow for the job should have without a doubt.

Already the suits and most of the rest of it have been acquired, but there ought to be some money in the bank, of course, there ought, and so a big benefit will hold forth at the Narberth Theater the first week in May, for which everybody will be asked to buy tickets, and everybody who is anybody will be sure to do so.

Which means, of course, that everybody will be there.

Errors Give Norristown Victory Over Lower Merion

Bill Anderson's baseball team lost a disgraceful exhibition to Norristown Tuesday afternoon at Roosevelt Field, Norristown. The score was 10 to 9, and the boys in blue earned only two of those ten runs. They scored five runs in the first inning without the semblance of a hit, and in the ninth inning, with Lower Merion leading, 9 to 7, and one man down, the team took a flop and threw the ball all over the field and gave the opposition three runs to win.

As Anderson said, "What a game!" Thirteen errors were charged against the locals during the nine-inning contest, and we hope they have all of them out of their system for the season.

Lower Merion has some good baseball prospects on the club this year, but they will have to use that old bulldog spirit if they want to win the league leadership, and that is the goal they should set for themselves. They have the best opportunity they have had in years with a well-balanced club to work with. Why not go out and win?

Have you criticism of your community or its paper? Why not write and air your views for your neighbors to read.

Improving the Breed

"Education," as President Comfort stated in his address at Haverford's Pre-Centenary Day Saturday, "is an individual business." The realization of this fact is the causative factor in some of the major changes now taking place in the field of higher education.

Because it is an individual business it cannot be carried on satisfactorily by wholesale methods. The popularity of a college education has increased by leaps and bounds during the past 10 or 15 years. A diploma has been looked on as the open sesame to a good job in business, to the right crowd in social life and various other material advantages.

As President Lowell, of Harvard, remarked at Haverford Saturday, "The idea that going to college is one of the inherent rights of man seems to have obtained a baseless foothold in the minds of many of our people." And he added with a twinkle, "I suppose that if the preamble to our Constitution were ever rewritten, it would assert that all men are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of a Ph.D."

Basing its new program on the assertion that "the breed of college men can be improved," Haverford has set itself strongly against the wholesale method of education. It intends to take the utmost care in the selection of its raw material since higher education today is such a "delicate, important and expensive process."

The program for Haverford's second century, as outlined by Dr. Comfort, seems very near the "ideal" for a small college. Emphasis is laid on the intimate relation between teacher and student with virtually every student an "honors" student.

Physical education is not overlooked, nor, on the other hand, over-stressed. Participation in three college sports will be required of all students. If a boy makes a team in that sport, he will be considered as taking "honors" in that line of activity. One very wise provision in the new athletic policy is the adoption by a student of one sport such as tennis, or golf that he can continue in later life.

All in all, Haverford's new program points the way for educational institutions which are interested in giving a well-rounded cultural education to its students.

The Effect of Redistricting

Under the official reapportionment bill introduced this week in the Senate at Harrisburg, Bucks County will be aligned with Lehigh County as the seventeenth district, leaving Montgomery County alone as the Ninth district. The new division may cause certain changes in political alignments as well as give the county a new representative in Congress.

For many years Henry W. Watson, of Langhorne, has ably represented this district at Washington. During his last two terms he has been virtually unopposed for re-election. But Mr. Watson is a Bucks County resident and it therefore seems logical that he will seek further office from the Seventeenth district. This will leave a new Congressman to be elected from this county. Whom the man will be and from what section of Montgomery he will come is a nice political question.

Redistricting is likely to further split the political alliance between Charles Johnson, Montgomery Republican leader, and former Senator Joseph Grundy, of Bucks County, since Grundy's future interests more likely will be tied up with the Lehigh County chiefs. This alliance in the last election was not strong enough to give Pinchot, Grundy's candidate, a majority in this county. The redistricting makes Johnson organization dictator of both a county and a district.

'Stop' Signs Must Be Obeyed

As though to impress upon the motoring public the absolute necessity of observing "Stop" signs at intersections of "Thru Traffic" streets, there occurred a serious accident Wednesday afternoon at Meetinghouse Lane and Montgomery Avenue which resulted in the loss of an eye by a woman and most serious injury to two children. The accident is attributed by Superintendent of Police Smith to the utter disregard of the "Stop" sign at the intersection.

The enforcement campaign begun this week by Lower Merion Police will continue, and it behooves all those who travel by automobile through Lower Merion to pay due heed to all "Stop" signs, not only to keep themselves out of Police Court, but as the only means of keeping down the accident, injury and death toll.

String Quartet Recital

The first recital of the Redwood String Quartet, of the Main Line Orchestra, will take place on Sunday evening, May 10, in the Ardmore Theater. This string quartet is made up of members of the Main Line Orchestra as follows:

Mrs. S. B. Coggeshall, first violin.
Dr. F. W. Sunderman, second violin.
Mrs. W. F. G. Swann, viola.
Dr. W. F. G. Swann, cello.

The quartet was organized last fall for the purpose of furnishing the subscribers of the Main Line Orchestra Association with intimate recitals of the classic composers. Woodwind ensembles and other groups are expected to be organized later and will give concerts during the 1931-1932 season. Tickets may be obtained at Azpell's Music Store or at the Ardmore Theater.

Lower Merion Downs Overbrook in Well-Played Game

Lower Merion won from Overbrook High last Friday afternoon in a well-played baseball game, 4 to 0. The pitching of Herb Thomas was good in the pinches. He held the visitors to two hits, but it was the spectacular and timely support of Roy Williams and Bob Odiorne that really made the game safe for the locals. Roy caught a short Texas leaguer over second and tossed to Brennan for a double play with one out and two men on in the fourth inning. Later Odiorne went to the track in center field and took a long fly over his shoulder with two out and a man on second. This was the star play of the game, and a remarkable play for a youngster.

Considering the way some people worry their husbands to get it, it might be called "pins and needles money."

'Opus 7,' Now at Library, Is Gay and Beautiful

"Fie, fie indeed! How wanton and perverse Grow only flowers? as well write only verse."

"There was a Woolworth's in the market town
The Araby Spice Island, Walsingham,
Miraculous of every village dame,
Who from its many breasted mercies drew
The joys of spending and of saving too."

"— Good manners bade one edge
How - do - you - doing nearer to the hedge."

"Her being so much in future fixed that she
Inhabited an anonymity
Of time, an ambiguity of day
Hollowed from midnight."

These quotations are teasers to entice everyone to read "Opus 7," a gay commentary on human nature by Sylvia Townsend Warner. Beauty of phrase, cleverness of wit and suavity of satire, are just a few of the qualities in the book now at the Narberth Library that attract one to this spirited romance in verse.

Growth

LESS than a year ago, the Strawbridge & Clothier Main Line Store had its inauguration. And truly there could be no finer example of healthy growth in business. The day the doors of this friendly store opened to the public, it became the Main Line's Home of Retail Service—first in thought for every requirement and in every emergency.

In fact, before the first week had passed, additional departments were being planned, and at the end of six weeks, work was started on additional selling and stock space, to the extent of 11,000 square feet.

Strawbridge & Clothier pioneered, not only in new territory, but in an unusual enterprise—the bringing of a retail service closer to the more distant homes.

And now, just opposite the Main Line Store, work has begun on the new Times Building, in which Strawbridge & Clothier will open a new Men's Store next autumn. This Men's Wear Store, like the Main Line Store itself, comes to the Main Line to supply an already existing demand; also like the Main Line Store its purpose is to serve as well as to sell.

More than 1000 New Charge Accounts Have Been Opened Here This Spring

Facts and figures tell a true story and probably these new charge accounts numbering more than one thousand, are the best evidence of how the Main Line Store has established itself in the home life of this suburban community.

If you have not yet visited your Main Line Store, we invite you to do so. You will find a drive to this convenient corner, Montgomery Avenue and St. James Place, the pleasantest kind of preparation for shopping.

Haverford Celebrates Pre-Centenary Day

Honorary Degrees Conferred on Presidents Lowell and Gates.

HOOVER GREETINGS

Haverford College celebrated its Pre-Centenary Day last Saturday before a large gathering of alumni, friends and educators.

The Convocation exercises, held in the college auditorium, signalized the first public announcement by President William Wistar of Haverford's "Ideal Program."

A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard, discussed higher education in America with particular reference to the place of the small cultural college.

President Thomas S. Gates, of the University of Pennsylvania, lauded the work of Haverford, and expressed the opinion that the college's new program would be watched most closely by the larger universities.

At the conclusion of the addresses, the degree of doctor of laws was conferred by Dr. Comfort in behalf of the college on Presidents Lowell and Gates and Augustus Taber Murray.

Haverford graduate in the class of 1885, distinguished Greek scholar and for the past year minister of the Society of Friends at the Friends' Meeting House in Washington, D. C.

The following telegram was read by Dr. Comfort at the beginning of the exercises: "I send most cordial greeting to the Pre-Centenary Convocation at Haverford College and every good wish for an inspiring gathering."—Herbert Hoover.

Throughout the morning classes and exhibits were open to visitors, who thronged the campus. Following the Convocation, which was broadcast over a nationwide hookup of forty stations, luncheon was served to the guests in the college gymnasium.

Athletic contests, baseball with the Army, hand cricket with the British Officers' team attracted many visitors in the afternoon, while a presentation of "The Queen's Husband" was given by the Dramatic Society in the evening.

Frances Hartshorne Pleases With Dances

Recital Last Friday Evening Proves of Great Interest and Charm.

A dance recital given last Friday evening by Miss Frances Hartshorne, of Cynwyd, assisted by the young Syrian dancer, El-Bashara, delighted a large audience at the DeLancey Playhouse.

Both young women are pupils of the famous Grace Christie, of New York, and both embody her terpsichorean theory of joyous co-ordination and easy rhythmic strength—a contrast to the tremendous tension and almost didactic ardor of the Mary Wigman school. To watch them was relaxing instead of exhausting, and the audience was left stimulated and refreshed.

Great versatility enlivened the program; the numbers varied from the modern dissonances of Prokofeff to the austerity of Tchaikowsky, from langorous waltz to popular "Blues"; some lyric, some dramatic, some humorous. Miss Hartshorne's first number, Chopin's "Spirit of the Machine Age," was a study of cold, sharp lights and clean, vigorous lines. While the "Pas d'Acier" ballet, seen recently at the Metropolitan, presented the worker or mechanic in action, this was the Machine itself, indomitable and relentless.

Miss Hartshorne's most interesting interpretation was Tchaikowsky's "Marche Slave." The dancer, in a rough terra-cotta smock, enacted the tragic peasant of old Russia, first in the dull strength of labor, then the awakening to power and revolt, the brute madness of tyranny, and finally defeat and annihilation. Her dramatic vigor and intensity of feeling, the fine controlled technique of her body, revealed her as an artist of real power.

Her assistant, El-Bashara, who is a native Syrian, contributed much to the program's charm and variety. Her Oriental flavor was unexpectedly piquant in modern dancing, and her interpretation of Prokofeff's difficult composition, "Out of Chaos," showed high creative intelligence. She is a gifted caricaturist, and her "Calamity Jane" was a delicious bit of nonsense. Miss Hartshorne closed her program with a rollicking cowboy dance that set all feet a-tapping.

A real friend is one who laughs at your jokes no matter how often he's heard them.
A girl judges a song entirely by the color of the hair and eyes of the man who sings it.

Lions Capture Second-Half Bowling Honors

Take Three Games from Battlers to Cop Title by Single Point.

MEET COLTS IN PLAYOFF

The Lions won the championship of the second half season in the Narberth Interchurch Bowling League last Friday night.

While the Meteors were taking two out of three games from the Pilots, the Lions shut out the Battlers, giving them four points and the championship.

The Meteors and Battlers had been setting the pace and it was expected that either of these teams would cop the flag. Consequently the Lions provided somewhat of a surprise by their last-minute rally, winning by a single point.

The Lions and Colts, first half winners, will now meet for the season's title.

Soundly built to serve you long and well

The piston pin test showing one of the many marvelously accurate gauges used to maintain Chevrolet quality

If you could see the new Chevrolet Six being built, you would understand why it performs so well, lasts so long and brings so much satisfaction and pleasure to its owners. The quality of raw materials is held to standards unsurpassed anywhere in the automotive industry. In the manufacture of the engine alone there are hundreds of separate inspections. Pistons are matched in sets to within one-half ounce. Piston pins must be within 1 1/2 tenths of one one-thousandth of their specified size. Connecting rods are matched to within

Chevrolet precision instruments are regularly checked against master gauges which are accurate to one millionth of an inch one-quarter ounce and are individually fitted by hand. The special alloy-steel crankshaft is the subject of truly amazing care and precision in manufacture and cannot vary from perfection in balance more than 1/2 inch-ounce!

These few examples of Chevrolet standards indicate the care used in the manufacture of every part of the car.

Soundly built to serve you long and well! No compromise with quality in manufacture means no compromise with complete satisfaction in ownership.

Abnormal Drought During Past Year Has Made Proper Tree Feeding a Necessity

By DR. E. P. FELT
Director of Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories

There has probably been no time in recent years when feeding trees would give larger returns. This is due to the fact that many trees have been seriously weakened by the dry periods of the two past summers. Few realize what this means to trees growing on lawns and in parks, places where there is little humus in the soil and practically none of the protecting mulch so abundant in normal woodland areas and present to a considerable extent even in natural grassy fields. The humus is an important factor in checking evaporation. The roots are essential feeding organs of the tree. There must be moisture in the soil or the roots cannot function. The lack of this may be offset to some extent by feeding. It is well known that ordinary farm crops in rich soils suffer relatively little from drought and this is true, though not so evident, of trees.

Only a little observation is needed to show that many trees are in a weakened condition. This is particularly evident in the case of the evergreens. The reason is that evergreens have leaves throughout the winter. They have a relatively large area exposed to the drying winds of winter compared with the deciduous trees. This is compensated to some extent by the waxy coating of the leaves. The drying and wilting of the foliage is more easily seen than equally great damage to the bare twigs and branches of deciduous trees. Here and there one may note pines with deficient yellowish foliage and occasionally a few are to be seen with all the needles brown. These last are dead or nearly so. They are past hope. The cause of this is that the roots have been unable to supply the necessary moisture during the winter, and the trees have literally dried up. This is most prevalent in light sandy soil and in places where conditions are decidedly unfavorable. It may be seen, likewise, in arborvitae and red cedar.

Watch Rhododendrons

It is also evident in broad-leaved evergreens. Rhododendrons and laurel in the poorer locations are showing an unusual number of dying tips, presumably because of a deficient moisture supply. There is, furthermore, an apparent drying of small bark areas on rhododendron twigs bearing leaves which at present appear normal. It is quite possible that this dried bark will be unable to convey an adequate amount of moisture to the leaves during the next four or five weeks. If so, many more branchlets must die.

The developments in the evergreens, while more readily seen because of their being in foliage, are paralleled to a certain extent in the case of deciduous trees and shrubs. There has been a considerable amount of injury, a combination of drought effects of the last two summers accentuated by winter drying of twigs and branches during the past few months.

Feed the Trees

A little later it will be comparatively easy to detect the dead wood and this latter is likely to be considerably more abundant than in seasons following normal winters. Moreover, some of the recently transplanted deciduous trees and shrubs have come through the winter in a poor condition and a number have died. There is a possibility that others less seriously affected by this combination of drought and winter injury can be saved by feeding, hence the conclusion that feeding is most desirable at the present time. The sooner this is done, the better. Delay may defeat the object sought.

There is nothing better to use than a complete fertilizer, one which will meet all needs of the tree. It is possible, though frequently unwise, to stimulate growth by the use of nitrogen, since this produces a soft growth very likely to winter kill. A tree food should contain nitrate of soda, to produce woody growth; potash which is of value in ripening wood and gives toughness and strength, and phosphates which build up and produce energy.

These ingredients should be in such form as to be available gradually throughout the growing season. A total of immediately soluble constituents are undesirable as well as a mixture of mostly unavailable plant foods. Availability is more important than actual fertilizing content. The ideal is a mixture which will supply the various elements as they are needed throughout the season.

By Robert J. Edgar

Most favorable weather for making gardens but unseasonably dry and warm. Many flowers, trees and shrubs are extraordinarily early and the flower show committees are wondering what will happen next. Garden visits will have their dates moved up unless cooler, cloudier or rainier weather adjusts the season to normal.

Rock garden visiting is a popular outdoor sport in late April and it will be noted that those that are really effective have a naturally rocky foundation to begin with. It is possible to simulate the effect of a rocky situation by using large rocks of several tons weight but the locating, moving and placing of such stones is an art and a business of its own. In fact, the building of a real rock garden is a job for naturalists and artists rather than for gardeners.

Our native Moss Pink, Phlox Subulata, is probably the showiest of early color in the rock garden. It comes in pink, pale lavender and white and is easily increased by removing runners that have rooted. The variety Vivid is a brighter color, but does not spread as rapidly as the type.

Aubrietias in purple, lilac and crimson are too seldom used. They are most effective and satisfactory but are better used in a dry wall or in a position where they may extend themselves by dropping down for several feet. They will not spread if planted on a flat surface. Easily raised from seed in a lath frame.

Arabis Albida, or Alpina, the showy white early color, is also easily raised from seed if you are satisfied with the single form, but the double flowered is so worth while that it pays to buy plants or propagate from cuttings.

Alyssum Saxatile is the third "A" on the list of easy ones. The common Basket of Gold is a bit too strong in color so that the variety Citrinum, a paler yellow, is used to blend with the Aubrietias. Another reason for a frame.

A well-built and well-planted dry wall is just as effective as a rock garden and needs no reason other than utility for its being. Aubrietias, Campanula Muralis, Corydalis Lutea, Dianthus Caesius, Phlox Subulata and Sempervivums will make a fair start in the dry wall.

The dry paved terrace makes a fine place for small plants, provided it is located in a sunny situation and has a well-drained foundation with fair soil and sand in the joints. This is the place for the Thymes, either white, yellow, crimson or woolly—the thymes are all fragrant when crushed, or stepped on, and never grow tall. Also in the joints of terrace stones, or in steps, we may use Arenarias. Low, mossy mats that will fill in the joints describes the Arenarias—the flowers are not important. Sedum Acre is one that may be used in terraces. For terrace planting start a few Johnny-Jump-Ups; they seed readily but can do no harm in the flagging.

Phlox Divaricata Canadensis grows in sun or in shade, in any soil or situation and is not out of place in the rock garden. If you can procure a stock, try the Lapham variety of a clearer lavender-blue color and more floriferous. This Phlox flowers with the Tulips in May and makes a charming association with the pale yellow or salmon pink shades.

some comments thereon:

"The new business district is described as follows:

District No. 3

The limits of District No. 3 shall be as follows: Beginning at a point marking the intersection of the northerly boundary line of the Borough and a line one hundred and twenty-five feet (125) eastward from the center line of Narberth Avenue and parallel thereto; thence eastward along the said northerly boundary line to its intersection with the southeasterly boundary line; thence southwestward along said southeasterly boundary line to a point in a line parallel to and one hundred and twenty feet (120) southward from the northerly boundary line; thence westward along said line parallel to and one hundred and twenty feet (120) southward from the northerly boundary line to its intersection with a line parallel to and one hundred and twenty-five feet (125) eastward from the center line of Narberth Avenue; thence northward along said line parallel to and one hundred and twenty-five feet (125) eastward from the center line of Narberth Avenue to the point and place of beginning.

"There is also a slight change in the lines of Business District No. 2, which is desirable because it adjoins the new district.

"In the section relating to residence districts, a more definite limitation of what business may be carried on is made by adding:

Nor shall there be conducted within the confines of "Residence Districts" any other form of business whatsoever on any lot or piece of ground or in any building now erected or to be erected except farming, gardening and the practice of professions, without a permit therefor from the Board of Adjustment. No show windows are to be employed or used and no signs larger than eight inches (8) by eighteen (18) inches are to be placed on any building or set up on any property.

"In the section relating to setbacks from the property line, the following is added:

Business Districts 1 and 2

In Business Districts 1 and 2 no portion of any type of building shall project within ten (10) feet of the curb line of the roadway, including the steps, bay windows, or other overhangings; except, however, that cornices over ten (10) feet above the curb level may project fifteen (15) inches.

Business District No. 3

In Business District No. 3 all buildings shall front on the northerly boundary line of the Borough, and no building or portion of building shall be erected within twenty-five (25) feet of said boundary line. The curb line of said properties shall be eighteen (18) feet southward from and parallel to the said boundary line, and the space between said curb line and the front of any building shall be paved as and for a sidewalk, said curb and sidewalk to be constructed for the full width of the lot or lots upon which any building or buildings may be erected. All of said curbs and sidewalks are to be constructed in accordance with Borough regulations.

No portion of any building hereafter erected or remodelled in Business District No. 3 shall be erected nearer than twenty-five (25) feet to the northerly boundary line of the Borough or nearer than the front line of the principal portion of either of the existing buildings immediately adjacent if said buildings immediately adjacent are more than twenty-five (25) feet from the said boundary line. Similarly, no portion of any building erected on a corner lot or on a lot running through to a diagonal street intersecting Montgomery Avenue shall be located nearer to the said diagonal street than the front line of the principal portion of the nearest existing building which fronts on said street.

"The part of the above which relates to District No. 3 is not intended to be unduly restrictive, but is included for several reasons: It provides adequate parking space so that the traffic on Montgomery Avenue will not be obstructed by parked cars, and retains as far as possible in a business district the residential character by preventing stores from obstructing the view. It also bars the opening of any streets other than Montgomery Avenue to business purposes, by requiring that all business properties in the new district shall have a Montgomery Avenue frontage and prevents the obscuring of residences on the side or back streets.

"A suitable character of business building throughout the Borough is ensured by requiring special approval of the plans for business buildings as outlined below:

All buildings hereafter erected or remodelled and new portions added to any building in any business district shall be of a substantial character and attractive in appearance. The plans therefor shall be submitted to the Building Committee of Council (or such other body as may be designated by Council) for approval in each case, and lack of substantial character or unsuitability of appearance may be sufficient reason for withholding the building permit.

"At present there is no legal control of blind intersections, which in the past has resulted in several bad automobile accidents. This condition should be improved to some extent by the following provision:

On any corner lot, no wall, fence or other structure shall be erected or altered, and no hedge, tree, shrub or other growth shall be maintained which may cause danger to traffic on a street by obscuring the view.

"Although the Ordinance as introduced into Council covers in general only the above-mentioned points in addition to retaining the general provisions of the old Ordinance, the bill is subject to amendment in any and all respects on second reading. The amendments will be decided upon by Council, guided by the opinions expressed at the hearing called by the Ordinance and Law Committee for the evening of May 1, in the way which the individual members of Council consider to be for the best interests of the Borough and for the majority of its residents. Anyone interested in either permitting or refusing the proposed amendments or in suggesting other amendments should be present at this meeting."

Readings Please at Parent-Teacher Assoc. Meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association of Narberth held a very successful meeting at the school on Monday evening. Miss Margaret Farrell gave several readings which were greatly enjoyed. The first, "Learning to Drive," was so enthusiastically received that Miss Farrell gave as an encore "Christopher Columbus," and later in the program, "At the Seashore."

Miss Mary Hoover, the well-loved senior member of the school faculty, spoke to the Association on the teacher's viewpoint of the work done by the P. T. A. Lawson Yow, one of the pupils of the school, gave the viewpoint of the children, and Mrs. Caryl E. Starr gave the mother's viewpoint.

Another pleasing feature was the chorus of mothers under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Drennen.

Ice cream and cake were served by the hospitality committee. The small bags brought in for the birthday celebration of the Association contained more than thirty dollars, which will be a welcome addition to the treasury.

Merion Boy Honored at University of Alabama

Elwood Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Richardson, of 514 Valley View Road, Merion, was elected editor of the Crimson-White, University of Alabama weekly newspaper, last week as the members of the student body cast their votes in the selection of Student Government officials for the ensuing year.

Richardson, holder of the honor of being the first student from above the Mason-Dixon line who has ever been elected to an official position in the University, is an extremely popular boy and secured a deluge of votes to win in the primary. In addition to the recently acquired honor, the editor-elect has served with the college newspaper for the past three years, has been assistant and managing editors at different times during the past year, is president and one of the founders of the only journalistic fraternity on the campus, and has been connected in an official capacity with each campus publication in the past. During the Christmas holidays, Richardson represented the newspaper at the Alabama-Washington State football game in Pasadena, Calif.

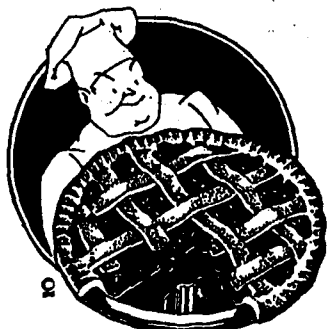

Since entering the University in his sophomore year from Temple University, where he was pledged to Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity and was amalgamated president of the Freshman class, Richardson has been an outstanding man in the many campus activities, and has written for several established newspapers throughout the South.

Clyde Richardson, brother of the newly honored boy, is also a student in the University and is a member of the current varsity baseball squad, as well as an outstanding athlete. Both are members of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. They will return to Merion next month for a brief vacation.

Tennis at Narberth C. C.

Teams from Lower Merion High School and St. Joseph's College are among those employing the seven clay courts of the Narberth Country Club, Montgomery Pike at Haverford Avenue, which were opened to the public April 13. Under management of Frank C. Feise, the courts are being operated at a nominal charge per hour per court, with no extra charge for use of lockers and showers in the club house, which once served as headquarters of the Narberth Tennis Club. A tennis shop is on the premises, and the miniature golf course, built last year, will soon be opened.

Lose to Penn, Beat Drexel

Haverford's tennis team extended the University of Pennsylvania in a match played during a high wind last Friday. Haverford won the first two singles and the third doubles. The playing of Captain Gray, of the Main Line college, after dropping the first set at 6-1, to win the next two sets at love was outstanding. Earlier in the week Haverford defeated Drexel 7-0 on the courts.

Harman to Speak at Father and Son Banquet trenches from going "haywire." And who could better supply that essential banquet ingredient than the far-famed Bruce Carey, who is the leader of most of the worthwhile choruses in the vicinity of Philadelphia. And Peter Stam, Jr., who puts life and harmony into the piano for the singing will be at the keyboard. And from a musical standpoint, last, but far from least, is the much-praised Presbyterian Sunday School orchestra, under the direction of that man of former fistic renown, Andrew Vandling.

But the features mentioned are only a few, news of which leaked out to your reporter. There are whisperings of shows to be put on by the boys, contests of skill, games and other entertainment that will make this dinner as live as a three-ring circus.

Oh, yes, we almost forgot one of the most important things!

There is to be food—but only the kind of food that appeals to boys and men. The Westminster Circle is making itself responsible for the dinner, which will be one of the finest ever served in Narberth.

When Tilda says "Soup's On," there is little doubt that every man and boy in the church and Sunday School will be on hand for the big event.

Mrs. Hongler Elected New Club President

The function of the garden is to display plants, but besides this there is something more—it must have a plus quality. Man, when he has discovered the use of things, goes farther and finally beautifies them. A garden should be not only a thing of beauty but a place for one's spiritual relaxation and contemplation. Some scraggy little geranium planted in a pot and placed in the window of some poor tenement often expresses more than a bed of gorgeous flowers on a carefully planned lawn. For this little flower is watered and tended by hands who enjoy and not by some paid Mike or Joe who hasn't the slightest conception of what a real garden should be.

Mr. Schrepfer went on to say that after the Dark Ages, and the development of the European countries, the people of France, Germany and Italy and other nations turned their thoughts to gardening, and as a result we have many beautiful gardens in these countries. England contributed a new style of gardening which is called the naturalistic style. The United States, newest of countries and the melting pot of the world, has accumulated a hodge-podge of styles. The gardens of Washington and Jefferson are reproductions of the Tudor style. Just now gardens are impasse, due no doubt to the present financial depression, and that we are now living in the confounded machine age. But as man turns from one thing to another, there is no doubt that eventually he will find himself, and when tired of crowding into the cities he will again turn to the garden. When the United States becomes a great nation then it will build great gardens.

Mrs. W. Russell Green presided and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer and Mrs. Joseph H. Miller were at the tea table.

The Literature Class of the club held a meeting at Elm Hall on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. William Levis was the chairman.

Next Thursday, April 30, the Literature Class will hold another meeting in Elm Hall, and in the afternoon a bridge party.

There will be a Garden Tea at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Narberth and Price Avenues, on May 4, from 3 until 5 o'clock. Every club member is invited and is requested to bring a prospective club member. Mrs. H. Prentiss Nichols, of Philadelphia, was elected an honorary member of the club at the last Board Meeting on April 24.

The all-day meeting of the Montgomery County Federation of Woman's Clubs will be held at Collegeville May 7. For reservations call Mrs. J. W. Darville, Warwick Road, Wynnewood.
